

A scatter plot showing the distribution of points colored by density. The points are concentrated in several clusters, with a large blue cluster on the left and a smaller yellow cluster on the right. The background is white.